SEMINAR ON THE ACQUISITION OF LATIN AMERICAN
LIBRARY MATERIALS

You are cordially invited to attend the 54th annual meeting of the Seminar on the Acquisition of Latin American Library Materials (SALALM).

SALALM 54, Migrations and Connections: Latin America and Europe in the Modern World, will focus on several major themes surrounding the varied relationships forged between Latin America and Europe in the modern, post-independence era. The program will feature panels on immigration and emigration, the experience of political exile, and the transmission of ideas, knowledge, and cultural practices between the two world regions. The meeting will also highlight major libraries, archives and digital collections that document and enable research on Latin American Studies within European libraries and academic institutions. In this way SALALM 54 will promote greater awareness of professional activities on both sides of the Atlantic.

SALALM 54 is sponsored by the Ibero-American Institute (IAI), which is home to the largest library in Europe specializing in Latin America, the Caribbean, Spain and Portugal.
